Queen Elizabeth I's Childhood

Queen Elizabeth I was the daughter of Henry VIII. He was a cruel man although he treated his children with care. Her mother, Anne Boleyn died when she was three years old. Her father, Henry VIII had her beheaded because he believed she had committed treason. It was not clear in her childhood that she would have a great future. She was not in line to be the Queen until her half-brother, Edward and half-sister Mary both died. She was always very mature from a young age and seen as a very serious person.
