LO: to write questions we would like to ask Captain Cook

What do we already know about Captain Cook?

What would we like to find out?

We already know that he sailed on the HMB Endeavour.

What questions related to his ship can we ask?

How many people were on the ship with Captain Cook?

Think of a fact you know about Captain Cook.

Use the Fact File to help you.

What else would you like to know about that fact.

Think of a question.

Write your question.

CL ?

LO: To ask Captain Cook Questions and make a prediction based on what we already know

What questions did we write yesterday?

What do you think would be a reasonable answer?

You can look up the answer to see if you can find it or you can think what he might say.

I do

How many people were on the ship with Captain Cook?

Think about how big the ship was

Think about how many people we know he needed (botanist, cook, crew etc.)

What would be a reasonable answer?

Write your reasonable answer in a full sentence

I had 30 people with me on The Endeavour.

What was the best map you made?

We do

Think about where he went.

Think about which places he and the crew liked.

What would be a reasonable answer?

Write your reasonable answer in a full sentence

We know he found Australia and the crew liked the animals.

The best map I made was of Australia.

We know from the video he liked Tahiti and thought about staying there.

The best map I made was around the Island of Tahiti.

You Do

Read the questions you wrote.

Now think of a reasonable answer for each question.

Write your answer in full as though Captain Cook was saying the answer.