Can you recite any of yesterday's poetry?

THE WINDHOVER By Gerard Manley Hopkins
To Christ our Lord

I caught this morning morning's minion
Kingdom of daylight's dauphin, dapple-dawn-drawn Falcon, in his riding
Of the rolling level underneath him steady air, and striding
High there, how he rung upon the rein of a wimpling wing
In his ecstasy! Then off, off forth on swing,
As a skate's heel sweeps smooth on a bow-bend: the hurl and gliding
Rebuffed the big wind. My heart in hiding
Stirred for a bird, - the achieve of, the mastery of the thing!

Brute beauty and valour and act, oh, air, pride, plum, here
Buckle! AND the fire that breaks from thee then, a billion
Times told lovelier, more dangerous, O my chevalier!

No wonder of it: sheer plod makes plough down sillion
Shine, and blue-beak ember, ah my dear,
Fall, gall themselves, and gash gold-vermillion.

Thursday 15th October 2020 LO: to describe

Today we are going to plan for our own poem, which we will be writing tomorrow.

Your poem is going to be the sighting of a creature in relation to nature; like the falcon in relation to the wind.

Thursday 15th October 2020 LO: to describe

Think about how you could use alliteration and imagery to describe, just like in The Windhover.

Let's think about a fish in a stream first.

How could we describe their movement? How could we describe the water's movement?

Make notes on your whiteboard as you watch the clips.
