LO: to use figurative language to create imagery

Personification
Giving an animal or object, characteristics only a human can have.
The waves spat at the shore.
What effect does it have?
Can bring inanimate things to life, so that their nature and actions are understood in a better way.
Metaphor
Used to make a comparison of two things that aren't alike but do have something in common. It states that something is something else.
The city is a jungle
What effect does it have?
Creates vivid imagery for a reader which helps them to better understand and visualise what is being described.
Alliteration
When words that start with the same sound (not just the same letter) are used repeatedly in a phrase or sentence.
She sells seashells on the sea shore
What effect does it have?
Alliterative sounds create rhythm and mood.
Simile
Comparing two things directly using 'like' or 'as'
He is as fast as a cheetah
What effect does it have?
Creates an image for the reader to better understand what is being described.

Monday 12th October 2020 LO: to use figurative language to create imagery

Can you identify the alliteration in the sentences below?

It was a calm morning. There was but a slight ripple on the surface of the blue water, caused by a whispering westerly wind that whipped across the bay.

A hungry heron hopped happily along a floating log, waiting for its moment to strike. Any second now, it would sink its sharp, sabre-like beak into the salty water, hoping to pluck an unsuspecting victim from beneath the surface...
