we do

in narratives, describe settings, characters and atmosphere, using a variety of techniques to engage the reader and choosing appropriate vocabulary that creates a consistent picture, e.g. verbs, preposition phrases, fronted adverbials, expanded noun phrases, relative clauses

use verb tenses consistently and correctly throughout their writing use the range of punctuation taught at key stage 2 correctly, e.g. commas after fronted adverbials, apostrophes for plural possession, brackets, dashes and commas to indicate parenthesis, commas for clarity and to avoid ambiguity, hyphen, semi colon and colon to introduce lists

LO: to entertain.

write effectively for a range of purposes and audiences, selecting language that shows good awareness of the reader (e.g. the use of the first person in a diary; direct address in instructions and persuasive writing), using similar writing as a model (WAGOLL and other texts)

use a range of devices to build cohesion (e.g. conjunctions, adverbials of time and place, pronouns, synonyms) within and across paragraphs select vocabulary and grammatical structures that reflect what the writing requires, doing this mostly appropriately (e.g. using contracted forms in dialogues in narrative; using passive verbs to affect how information is presented; using modal verbs to suggest degrees of possibility)

As Rose lifted back the final branch in her way, her heart stopped at what was in front of her. Before her eyes, stood an army of ghost-like faces, wearing what look liked matching pyjamas; staring back at her. Their eyes were filled with sorrow as silence echoed through the forest. Barbed wire moaned whilst metal fences caged the compound warning strangers away. Rose's vision began to blur. The silent statues remained still and continued to lock their eyes on Rose as if they were waiting for something. Rose edged forward to get a better look. The wind howled in desperation overhead as the fog laid a thick blanket. A building stood behind with broken windows that breathed in the cold gusts of air. One of the prisoners, no older than 6, came closer to the fence and fell to his knees. The desperation in his eyes made a tear fall from Rose's eye. .....
