

Wednesday

Today you are going to write your own story using the plan you created yesterday. Below is an example to help you.

Once upon a time there lived a t-rex who went on an adventure to Clayton park. In the park he saw some children playing on the swings. T-rex wanted to play so he went in the play area. He was so big and his teeth were so sharp that he scared all the children away.

Use your plan that you created yesterday to write a simple story.

Remember to:

- Fred talk your words.
- Use finger spaces.
- Full stops at the end of your sentences.
- Read your writing to make sure it makes sense.
