

Wednesday 12th May 2021

LO: To use -ed and -ing sentence starters

Tuesday 11th May 2021

L.O. To use -ed and -ing sentence starters

Nervously, Ali stood outside al-Khawarizmi's house wondering if he would help him solve the riddle.

Soon after, Al-Khawarizmi heard the puzzle and thought, "...hmm...".

Later that day, he thought to himself, "I could use algebra to solve it." Luckily, he wasn't far from the market.

The next day, all he could think about is his luck he might do it.

Excitedly, he rushed to his house (thinking hard) he was so joyful.

As fast as he could, he went to see the caliph he was so happy he was skipping.

Rapidly, the caliph was impressed by ali's effort. Ali was so happy.

Happily, the caliph granted him access to the House of wisdom. Ali burst into happy tears hugging the caliph. He might be a scholar soon.

Purple Pen look back to edit and improve (5 mins)

ABCDEFGHIJKLMNOPQRSTUVWXYZ

-ed and -ing sentence starters

-ed: Feeling sentence starters. Eg Excited, Embarrassed, Worried

-ing: Verb (action doing sentence starters) Smiling, Climbing, Talking

We use them to make our writing more interesting

I Do

-ed sentence starters

- these words are verbs and are followed by a punctuation
- these are often the addition verb in the sentence and provide more detail to the reader

Ali sat down under the tree to escape from the heat

Tired, Ali sat down under the tree to escape from the heat.

Challenge: Add more details using other skills we have learned

Tired, Ali sat down under the tree (near the al-khwarizmi's house) to escape from the heat. Not long after, Ali saw al-khwarizmi leaving home and tried to approach him but was stopped by his guard.

ABCDEFGHIJKLMNOPQRSTUVWXYZ

We do

Add -ed sentence starter to improve the sentence

Ali told al-khwarizmi about the riddle

Thrilled, Ali told al-khwarizmi about the riddle

Challenge: Add more details using other skills we have learned

Thrilled, Ali told al-khwarizmi (with hope in his eyes) about the riddle. Impatiently, Ali waited for al-khwarizmi to speak. After a few minutes, al-khwarizmi said, "It's not possible, the servant cannot buy the flying carpets."

ABCDEFGHIJKLMNOPQRSTUVWXYZ

I Do

-ing sentence starters

- these verbs are used as adjective and are usually written as a phrase followed by a punctuation
- these usually tell the reader how the character is feeling.

Ali was in shock

Hearing his response, Ali was in shock

Challenge: Add more details using other skills we have learned

Hearing his response, Ali was in shock. After a minute's silence, he gathered the courage and asked, "Why is that?" At this point, al-khwarizmi had a smile on his face. He looked at Ali, who was dejected, and explained his reason.

ABCDEFGHIJKLMNOPQRSTUVWXYZ

We do

Add -ing sentence starter to improve the sentence

Ali ran all the way to home

Struggling to contain his excitement, Ali ran all the way to home

Challenge: Add more details using other skills we have learned

Struggling to contain his excitement, Ali ran all the way to home. Overjoyed, he waited impatiently all night (in the courtyard) for the call for morning prayer. Finally, the day had come, when his prayers were going to be answered.

ABCDEFGHIJKLMNOPQRSTUVWXYZ

In your books, improve the statements by using -ed and -ing sentence starters

You do

- Ali left for the Caliph's palace.
- Ali longed for an audience with the Caliph
- Caliph invited Ali to his chamber
- Ali stepped into the House of Wisdom.

Challenge: Add more details using other skills we have learned

ABCDEFGHIJKLMNOPQRSTUVWXYZ