L.O: To entertain.

Edit and Improve

We do

What can we do to improve the paragraph below?

Lucy ran as fast as she could. She turned on the light switch quickly and ran back to pick up her pig-puppet. She couldn't believe that the noises were still coming from the walls. "I'm going to tell my mum and dad!" she said.

You do

Now look back at the writing you did on Friday. Use your purple pen to edit and improve.

Think carefully about:

- spellings (use the red words if needed!)
- figurative language (and is it appropriate?)
- atmosphere (show not tell)

Maybe you could use some of the figurative language from last Wednesday's lesson??

I do

Independently look back at your plan.

What will the rest of Lucy's family do?

What will they say?

What will their actions be?

Lucy will go to their room.

She is anxious.

Lucy wakes up her mum and dad.

They are annoyed at her for waking them and tell her she has an over-active imagination.

Lucy feels ignored but determined to do something!

We do

Let's look at the objects Lucy will come across on her journey to her mum and dad's room. Can we use personification to describe?

As Lucy opened the door, it moaned like it did not want to be woken.

floorboards

walls

Courage flooded her body. Lucy unfolded her arms and sat up straight. "You do not frighten me!" she told herself with great determination.

Marching over to her door, which was at the other side of the room, she swung it open. It smiled at her, she knew she was doing the right thing. Stepping out into the hallway, the floorboards groaned as the noise echoed through the house. Lucy froze. What will her mum and dad think about waking them up in the middle of the night?

The thumping hit her ears like a drum. BANG! THUMP! YOWL! "I can't take this anymore!" she said to herself and continued to journey towards her mum and dad's room.

With a partner, write a sentence will react to been woken up.
