Science

Last week in Science we started to plant our beans. Lets have a look and see if they have changed.

week 1

In Science today we are going to learn about common wild plants.

What do you think wild plants mean?

Do you know the names of any wild plants?

I do: Read the information about plants and make notes on post-it notes.

We do: Read the information about plants and make notes on post-it notes.

These are brambles.

They have very prickly stems.

They have white flowers.

They can grow very big.

In the autumn, brambles grow blackberries!

You do: With your partner, read the information sheet about wild plants and make notes about the wild plants on post-it notes.

I do: Use the notes to write sentences about the plants.

This is a _____.

It is _____.

We do:

This is a _____.

It is _____.

You do: Cut out the plants and write sentences to describe them using your notes to help you.

This is a _____.

It is _____.