Thursday- Read the story with a grown up.

Once upon a time, there were three wolves. The wolves went to build a house. One built a house of feathers; one built a house of straws, and the other built a house of sweets.

One day a big bad pig came by and wanted to go in the house. He went to the wolf who had built the house of feathers. He huffed and he puffed, but he couldn't blow the house down.

Can you draw a picture of the story your grown up read, and write a caption about it?
