Wednesday 10th March
To use conditional conjunctions

Complete the quiz (ppt)

What do you think a conditional conjunction is?
What does it mean?
How is it used?
What is the rule?
What is a model verb?

Conditional conjunctions are subordinate clauses which can be added to a main clause that has a modal verb e.g. I might go out. Other modal verbs are shall, should, could, will.

Conditional clauses such as 'if the sun comes out' use conditional conjunctions (if, supposing, unless, as long as).

The full sentence says what we wish would happen, or what might have happened, e.g. Unless the rain stops, I will stay indoors.

These sentences are in the conditional tense.

I do

Underline the conditional clauses

If you like, I'll cook us some soup.

We do

Underline the conditional clauses.

We can eat out, as long as we find a restaurant that is open.

Unless I find my glasses, I won't be able to see the film.

They would like to go swimming, if there is time.

We do

Underline the conditional clauses

We can eat out, as long as we find a restaurant that is open.

Unless I find my glasses, I won't be able to see the film.

They would like to go swimming, if there is time.

You do

Finish these conditional clauses

I might stay up late, if.....

We could help you, if.....

He will be sad, unless.....

You can have a biscuit, as long as.....

Add a model verb to this sentence

If the weather is nice tomorrow, we _____ go to the park.

Use a model verb and conditional clause about what you would do if you won a million pounds!