Friday 20th November
LO: To use fronted adverbials.

Look at pages 24-31.

Nov 11-13:36

With Vikings now ruling Jorvik, many have settled down in the north and east of England.
Grim is fixing the roof.
People live in this end.
Animals live in this end.
Farmyard smells- pig manure, goats, woodsmoke!
Thorkel and Thora often play with Saxon children.
"Leyk" means play.
"Hi" means hello
Viking Farm

Vikings consider men and women as equal.
The only 'window' is the hole in the roof. The Vikings call it 'vindeye'.
smoky!
A slave boy brings wood.
Viking Women
Ylva Ormsdottir is a clever woman. She runs the farm, decides what's to be done in the longhouse, barn, storeroom and henhouse – Ylva rules the roost!
People sleep on benches along the walls.
Birka Bread
200g (1⅔ cups) flour · 100g (1 cup) oats · ½ tsp salt
½ tsp cumin · 50g (⅓ cup) butter · 50g (⅓ cup) honey
200ml (¾ cup) water
1 Mix the dry ingredients together
2 Rub in the soft butter until the mixture is crumbly.
3 Add honey and water 4 Mix to a dough
5 Roll into a fat sausage 6 Chill for 1 hour
7 Slice into ½cm (¼in) slices
8 Cook in a dry frying pan until golden
Ylva sings while she is baking.
The hens wander indoors too!

Jorvik
All along the smelly quayside, different ships bob at anchor. Grim takes a walk down Koppa Gata and buys a comb there for his nits! Yiva's bought a string of beads and some wooden toys.
Jorvik is a noisy, smoky place.
Weighing scales
It's a place to exchange gossip...
...or fall in love!
Vikings have their own coins minted.
People from faraway places are here to buy and sell.

Nov 11-13:34

At Grim's and Ylva's farm Christians and Pagans feast together horns of beer
slave pike
The shadows seem to come alive
Yule Feast
Grim hosts a Yule feast for friends and neighbours. His stories of Thor make the priest laugh out loud. Tales about Odin make everyone nervous – people glance over their shoulder when they hear about him.
Grim tells a story about the gods.
"I've stolen Thor's hammer," yells the giant Thrym.
"If you want it back, let me marry goddess Freya."
Thor puts on Freya's dress, covers his beard with a veil and goes to the wedding.
Thrym, thinking he's married Freya, gives Thor a kiss. Thor snatches back his mighty hammer.
KISS

Match the fronted adverbial to the sentence about Vikings as a class.

You will all have different ones that you need to match with someone else in the class.

Nov 11-13:34

I do

Use the fronted adverbials to write a sentence about Vikings.

Use the examples to help.

Nov 11-14:48

We do

Use the fronted adverbials to write a sentence about Vikings.

Use the examples to help.

Worriedly, the Vikings battled with the Saxons.

Violently, the Vikings raided the monasteries in England because they were very wealthy.

You do

Use the fronted adverbials to write a sentence about Vikings.

Use the examples to help.

viciously

Nov 11-14:48

In 793 AD,	Viking pirates raided the monastery at Lindisfarne.
At this time,	England was divided into many small kingdoms.
Travelling across the high seas,	Vikings made their journey to Britain.
Violently,	They raided monasteries and stole their goods.
Courageously,	They travelled the sea through storms.
Ingeniously,	they built their longships using timber or oak.
In addition,	Their sails were made of wool, their ropes made of hemp and their glue was made from pine resin.
Surprisingly,	Many of the warrior recruits were farmers, craftsmen and merchants.
On the boat,	They carried the supplies they would need.
On the battle field,	They fought valiantly.