Wednesday 25th November

LO: To use the correct grammar

Jan 14-08:20

What is a homophone?

Watch the video.

https://www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize/topics/zqhpk2p/articles/zc84cwx

Nov 24-10:41

I do

Match the homophone to their correct meaning.

Write a sentence.

aloud — The slaves were not _____ to escape.

allowed — The Viking commander spoke _____ to his warriors.

The slaves were not allowed to escape because they were prisoners.
The Viking commander spoke to the warriors so they knew what to do.

Jan 14-08:21

We do

You will each have a homophone or a definition.

As a class we need to match up the homophone with the definition.

Write sentences on your whiteboard using there, they're and their.

Make sure you have used and spelt the homophone correctly.

Jan 14-08:21

You do

Write sentences in your books using there, they're and their.

Make sure you have used and spelt the homophone correctly.

Challenge: Use a conjunction in your sentence.

Try to use the conjunction which and spell it correctly.

Jan 14-08:21

There is, there are,
There was, there were.
T.H.E.R.E.
Their pegs, their pens.
Their mothers' hens,
T.H.E.I.R.

Nov 25-07:45

Nov 25-07:47

Activity 2

When to use was and were.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=KAsacxmPh1Q

Jan 14-08:21

I do

Write a sentence using was.

Write a sentence using were.

The Vikings were blood-thirsty pirates, because they travelled the seas and raided monasteries.

A Viking farmer was mostly a peaceful person, although sometimes he did go to battle.

Nov 24-10:43

We do
Write a sentence using was.
Write a sentence using were.
Write sentences on whiteboards about Vikings using was and were.
Remember where and were are different words with different meanings.
e.g. They were pirates.
Where did the Vikings come from?

Nov 24-10:43

You do
Write a sentence using was.
Write a sentence using were.
Write the sentences in your book.

Challenge: Use conjunctions in your sentences.
Try to use the conjunction where and spell it correctly.

Nov 24-10:43

Activity 3

When do you use a/an?

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=IFmPNuR6gxY

Jan 14-08:21

I do
I will add the determiner a or an to make it correct.

_____ Viking

_____ artefact

Now I will write a sentence using the correct determiner.

A Viking is travelling to another country so he can steel some gold.

An artefact has been found which tells us about Vikings.

Jan 14-08:23

We do

You will each have a word and you need to decide if you use the determiner a or an.

Then write the word with the correct determiner into a sentence on your whiteboard.

You will need to have an example of a and an.

Jan 14-08:23

We do

You will each have a word and you need to decide if you use the determiner a or an.

Then write the word with the correct determiner into a sentence in your book.
You will need to have an example of a and an.
Use conjunctions in your sentences.

Jan 14-08:23